TreeWare

→ version 20090330
March 2009

Server Limits
by chaozz

It was decided to raise the maximum number of servers one hacker can own from 6 to 15. This is for the highest ranked hackers only. Other ranks should check the "How to play" section in the menu to see how many servers they can manage.

Software Changes
by chaozz

The former FTP software costing 100k was over expensive and not profitable. This software is now transformed into FileSharing software, with it's own economy and good revenue.

FTP software still exists, now available at 10k. Which still is hard to make profitable. But a few servers will hopefully create a name for themselves and be profitable.

All FTP servers are conveniently listed in the FTP list in your menu, including the number of files hosted on it.

Reputation
by chaozz

A new feature in the HF world is "Reputation". You can reward or punish hackers with reputation points. This might help you figure out just who you are dealing with.

You can give away 10 points per day. The hacker with the best reputation and the hacker with the worst reputation both will be displayed on the Stats page.

Help with TreeWare
by chaozz

Wanna help with TreeWare? I could really use a hand filling treeware with cool news, hacking articles, etc, etc. You got the skills and the time?

Mail me: treeware@hackerforever.com.